LOOKING UP.

On the present policy of reconstruction another civil war. We thought we had conquered the South. The South thought so too. But our government is holding out the bait that they are not conquered. The rebels catch at it eagerly, of course. All over the South they are embarking in politics, not as a conquered people, as they were disposed to do at first, but with their old views and prejudices in full blast. The bastard and bogus governments of Virginia and Louisiana, are completely controlled by men of the spirit which made the rebellion. Gov. Pierpont and his satellites in the one State, sprinkle their debates with pro-slavery slang. Gov. Wells in the other, repudiates Gen. Banks, who called him into being, and turns squarely against all the ideas on which this war has been fought. There are not brains enough in Virginia and Louisiana to disguise the treasonable spirit of the people. In South Carolina under the ex-rebel Governor Perry, and in Mississippi under the infamous Sharkey, the rebel politicians are playing a deeper game and wear the mask of loyalty until their hold of power is assured.

We are thus threatened with the re-appearance of the old leaders of the South in the councils of the nation.—They come back not as converted men, but mean to secure by the means of a region with the Northern Democracy that which they failed to secure in the conflict of arms. The oath of allegiance troubles them not at all. The President has taught them to take it with a reservation. They mean to come back to us for the purpose of again controlling the policy of the nation. They have done it for near seventy years, and they mean to do it again. They did it by means of slaves before, and now by means of counting in the representation, but out of the ballot, 4,000,000 of people. With the negroes disfranchised, but counted in the representation, the South comes into Congress with 100 solid votes.—Add 13 to these and take 10 from the North, which the new appointment with the blacks all counted will render necessary, and then the South has only to secure the aid of a few dark spots in the North to give it the majority.—Slavery can be re-enacted in spite of the national government for the doctrine of State rights will afford an excuse for non-interference. The war debt may be repudiated. The South hates it as the reason of its discomfiture. It is really as dangerous at present to allow the rebels to arm themselves with ballots as bullets, unless we have a counteracting power. That counteracting power is either to enfranchise the blacks, or limit representation to the legal voters.

FORBIDDING FACTS.

With the exception of Gov. Hamilton in Texas and Judge Marvin in Florida, every one of the Provisional Governors appointed by the President was an active and voluntary participant in the rebellion, and is now at heart an enemy of the government.—Holden of North Carolina, the best of the lot, was Confederate State printer, and did what he could to render the rebellion successful. Perry of South Carolina, went into the rebellion with his whole soul; and when compelled to yield, declared that no act of his life caused him so much humiliation and disgust, as the necessity of submitting to the authority of the Federal Government. The whole scheme of reconstruction under such ex-rebels must be pronounced a tremendous farce.

A RIGHT START.

If our government at the beginning had been based upon righteous principles, no slavery to clog it, the woes of civil war had never come upon us. If we wish to avoid another like war, we must reconstruct the Government now in this new start upon a firm basis—equality for every American citizen before the law. If we adopt any other we shall surely stand—we cannot avoid disastrous results. In the adoption of a wrong principle

"We but teach,"
"Early instructions, which being taught,"
"Return to plague the inventor. Thus even-handed justice," "Commends the ingredients of our poisoned chalice to our own lips."

CURRENT EVENTS.

Senator Collamer of Vermont is dead. He was not a strongly marked national man, and yet he exercised a good influence in Vermont. He has been the leading man in that State for a quarter of a century.—Hon. Preston King of N. Y. is also dead. Under temporary insanity produced by a softening of the brain, he committed suicide by drowning. He was formerly member of Congress, then one term U. S. Senator. He was one of the leading men in the formation of the Republican party. An original Silas Wright Democrat, he never sold his services to the slave power, and when the Democratic party sold itself to the Southern aristocracy, and sought to make Kansas a slave State, he could not go it. In company with thousands of Northern Democrats, he kicked the traces. Like Senator Collamer he was a candid, solid man. One whom the people believed and trusted. Late Senator Bingham and King were in character, solid sense, early and later political life, in many respects counterparts of each other.—Nevada elects a Republican member of Congress.—The army now consists of 180,000 men.—A Mormon war is looming up. The Mormons have declared Polygamy as their religion, and are preparing to maintain it by force of arms.—The rebel States are uniformly electing secession Governors and men of the worst stamp. They are treating the negroes shamefully.—The noble Kilpatrick, the grand raider against rebels and copperheads, is appointed minister to Chili.—The Internal Revenue receipts since the 1st of July are upwards of $132,000,000. South Carolina has adopted the Constitutional amendment. This fiery state the hot bed of secession and the first to rebel, seems to be the very first to do works meet for repentance.—The celebrated Dr. Tyng's church in N. Y. city is destroyed by fire. Loss $300,000.—The reward for the capture of Jeff Davis has been given to Gen. Wilson. The rebel Gen. Winder, under whose special orders Wirz acted, begins to feel rather ticklish round the throat.—The President directs Governors Perry and Holden to continue in their provisional duties.—The result of the late elections caused a grand glorification and jollification in Washington. The enthusiasm was like that which swept the city on the news of Lee's surrender. The President was particularly delighted, especially over New Jersey. The insuring of her vote for the Constitutional amendment was repeatedly referred to by him in the frequent interchange of congratulation, and with emphasized gratification.—The French are beleaguering in Matamoros.—Owing to the exorbitant rates of living a number of the members of Congress intend to live in Baltimore, and some propose to remove Congress to Philadelphia.—The 10th cavalry returned last Wednesday and is now at Jackson.—Alabama has gone secession to the core.—Gold 147½.

WHO ARE THE PEOPLE?
President Johnson says the colored race are not. All others, however foreign, however ignorant, however degraded, however disloyal, are the people, of whatever nationality or race; but the colored race are not. English, Irish, German, Asiatic, Australian, what not, the moment they set foot on American soil, however ignorant, however degraded, however disloyal, are the people; but the colored race, however loyal, however intellectual, are not. The hired soldiers of our armies, Hessians or French Zouaves, or what not, are the people. But our brave, native born colored soldiers, though boasted of by hundreds of thousands, and sacrificed for the life of the government in every place of toil and peril, are not the people, are not part of the people, have no lot of happiness and right among them. They are flung down with contempt under the feet of the whites for the South to build upon their degradation a new preponderance of political power. This is the grand characteristic of President Johnson's administration thus far, namely, the establishment by proclamation of the rule that the colored race are no part of the people of the United States. By proclamation, when it becomes convenient, any other class may be excommunicated and held only for insult, injury and contempt. President Johnson has just as much right to proclaim that the Jews and the Jewish race are not the people, or that Roman Catholics are not the people, or that Protestants are not the people. If we should have a Hebrew president, and President Johnson's rule and example of government be followed, then none but Hebrews would be allowed to vote, and all except Hebrews would be counted out as not the people. Or if we should have a Roman Catholic president, then none but Romanists would be allowed to vote; a mere presidential proclamation would be sufficient, and all the Protestants would be counted out as not the people, and not being the people, they would be mere stuff for incursions, tortures, wheels, racks, riots, wastings, insults, injuries, an degradation of all kinds, according to proclamation, which is the new mode of law, the latest of the gifts conferred by the rebellion. ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

SUNSET.

Over the western hills, while I write, the day god is slowly disappearing, leaving much of his glory, tinging the clouds, till they appear like one magnificent robe enveloping the earth in beauty and glory. It seemed to me like a rich veil cast over the earth, to cover the sin and wickedness of the world. Let us walk over these hills in imagination, and see if we can learn anything from the setting sun. It seems as if we should be nearer the sunset there, as if purer, better thoughts should occupy our minds, and thoughts of the earth should be driven far away. This sunset, so calm and beautiful, often makes me think of the death of the christian. Just so calmly and peacefully, life takes its departure, but still, as the sun leaves traces of its beauty behind, for awhile, so shall the kind and good words, and acting, and deeds, be remembered long after the spirit has departed. We all, no doubt, wish our last moments to be as peaceful as these, and in order that they shall be so, we must every day do all the good we can, and what an opportunity have we of doing good here, in our school. If we only improve it we shall receive our reward.

The following is a copy of the telegram addressed to his Excellency, B. F. Perry, Provisional Governor of South Carolina:

"Your letter of the 4th is just now received. While much has been done in South Carolina that is conducive to peace and restoration, the President still thinks that it is impossible to anticipate events. He expects, therefore that you will continue to exercise the duties heretofore devolved upon you, as provisional Governor of South Carolina until you shall be relieved by his order. He observes with regret that neither the convention nor the State Legislature have pronounced the debts and obligations contracted in the name of the state for unconstitutional and even rebellious purposes to be void. He equally regrets that the State seems to decline the Congressional Amendment of the Constitution of the United States abolishing Slavery. I telegraphed to you yesterday as follows: 'The President directs me to write you that an early adoption of the Congressional Amendment of the Constitution of the United States abolishing slavery by the South Carolina Legislature is deemed peculiarly important, and especially desirable with reference to the general situation of the Union. I have now only to say that the President's opinions before remain unchanged.'

W. H. SEWARD."

Home Enterprise.

We have a number of builders, cabinet makers and other manufacturers who make it their business to build and adorn the residences of the living. We have one establishment only whose sole employment is to adorn and ornament the abodes of the dead. This establishment is however no one horse concern, but displays a large enterprising spirit, fully equal to the necessities of our beautiful and rapidly growing "Highland" city and surrounding cemetery villages. We allude to the firm of Batchelder Bros. Their Marble works on Washington St. will well repay the visit. The rough material, in the form of blocks and slabs, they import mostly from Rutland Vermont. It is taken in hand by the cutter and moulded into form for monuments, thick stones from 3 to 8 inches thick, or slabs two inches thick. The next process is sand rubbing and polishing. Now comes the skill of the artistic workman. There is room for a high order of genius. The polished marble must be made to talk. It must tell of faith and hope. It must reveal to the bereaved soul the prospect of a glorious reunion "in the better land." Silently but impressively, and pathetically and lastingly it proclaims the lessons of a future life and inspires to a nobler existence. The heart of the workman needs to be deeply imbued with these great bible and gospel teachings. Here is a stone that contains a tablet—a beautiful recess, a bird's nest, the beautiful winged bird just about flying into its nest, an emblem of maternal tenderness and care. Here is another, hands are actually clasped, evidencing the warmth and throbbing affection of a last earthly farewell. On another stone the hand points upward and the word "faith" gospelizes the emblem and vitalizes the convictions with the glad assurance that,
"Beyond this vale of tears, There is a life above, Unmeasured by the flight of years;
And all that life is love."

Thus the cold marble becomes instinct with the blessedness of a heavenly life. While in unmistakable language it imparts the operative thought that,
"The world can never give,
The bliss for which we sigh."

It also more than compensates in the brighter thought that,
"There is a land of pure delight," "Sweet fields, beyond the swelling flood, Stand dressed in living green."
"Tis there the weary are at rest,
And all that life is love."

And still again, here is a little infant, gently calmly sleeping. It can't be death, it only sleeps. Thus says the marble. An angel figure is carrying the sleeping form to the skies,
"To realms of endless day."

Here are also soldier's stones, artistically carved with military designs, the eagle, shield the starry flag, encircling that for which the soldier had bled and died, the "Union," chiseled upon marble in all the paraphernalia of war. This firm is paying special attention to monuments. They have the very best of workmen and do not believe that their lettering and carving is excelled. Certainly no better style of work is manufactured in this State. We are not at all surprised that this Institution receives so wide spread a patronage.

Ann Arbor News.
The City Authorities are inaugurating thorough sanitary measures in view of the cholera. Our authorities we trust will not be behind hand. Twenty-two of the merchants of Ann Arbor have agreed to close at 7 o'clock P. M. Rev. Dr. Todd of Springfield Mass., addressed the Students' Lecture Association last week. "The News seems to have fallen very much in love with the old gentleman. The Monitor house and furniture have been sold to W. U. Benham for $14,000. The Misses Clark's are to receive a donation visit at their new Seminary to pay off the debt incurred in its erection.
Monday next the Eastern Convocation will meet in St. Andrews Church (Episcopal) and hold a three days session.

Indebtedness.
The U. S. School is under special obligations to Mr. J. Cody for the use of his crockery at their late festival. Mr. C. has a fine assortment of crockery. Of course our readers have noticed the beautiful Pitcher picture in our columns.

COMMON COUNCIL.

MONDAY, NOV. 6, 1865.

The Mayor in the chair.

Present a quorum.

Petitions—From Wm. Hopson, for leave to erect a frame addition in the rear of his blacksmith shop on Cross street. To fire department.

From Mrs. Duffee and others, for the opening of the alley between Hamilton and Ballard streets. Whereupon, Ald. Martin submitted the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Marshal be and is hereby instructed to open the alley forthwith, one rod wide, between Hamilton and Ballard street, running from Cross to Ellis street—the same to be governed by line on the east side of the alley running north from Kennedy's on Cross street.

Adopted.

REPORTS.

The Mayor, from committee appointed at last meeting to examine into the responsibility of the subscription for the Town Clock, made verbal report, that such examination had been made, and that committee deemed the subscription list perfectly reliable, for the full amount to be raised upon the same.
Report accepted and committee discharged.

RESOLUTIONS.

By Ald. Martin, made and read Resolved, That the Marshal be hereby instructed forthwith to repair Forest street bridge.

By Ald. Yost.

Resolved, That C. L. Yost be and is hereby appointed Wood Inspector for the Second Judicial District of the city of Ypsilanti.

By Ald. Uhl.

Resolved, That a committee of two be appointed to ascertain the cause and extent of damages occasioned to the carriage of Henry Lefurge, on or about the 20th of October last, at the culvert on River street, at the corner of Mill street, and report at next meeting of council.

Lock-up Escapes.

C. P. Stuck and J. Gillespie escaped from the lock-up Sunday night. Stuck had stolen 4 sets of billiard balls at Logansport Ind., value, $200. He was arrested here by Detective Gallagher and City Marshal of Logansport. He was placed in the lockup until a requisition could be obtained from Lansing. It is evident from the manner of the escape that outside aid was given. We are sorry to know that one of our young men has so degraded himself. Charles is not the last victim of evil courses unless a reformation comes on the part of a few reckless boys.
"Evil communications corrupt good manners."

Real Estate Sales.
S. Post to H. Van Tassel, lots rear of Congress fronting Huron St.—$1,800. Mr. Van Tassel contemplates putting up in the spring two large blocks forming an L around King's Grocery.

Dea. J. Rorison to A. S. Loomis, farm of 100 acres on the plains—$8,000.

Continental.

The Continentals were here two evenings last week. We heard them one evening—They are decidedly the best troupe that has visited Ypsilanti of late. They are one and all splendid singers. The piece entitled "Sleep On," was beautifully sung. The "Tree," was laughable. "Old Shady," developed musical discipline of a high order.
It completely carried away the audience.

Boots and Shoes.

We will sell Boots and Shoes cheaper than any other establishment. A complete stock for Men's Women's and Children's wear, always on hand. W. B. HEWITT & CO.

The Latest News.

zines, and Fancy Goods and Toys. Harper's

Dec. is on hand. Subscriptions are now being received for these and all other weekly and daily magazines and papers. They receive subscriptions for the Commercial.

A Row.

Wm. Carter, a returned colored soldier, drew a pistol on Wm. Mallion, for some supposed insult. Carter was arrested, but settled the matter by paying with a portion of his bounty money. Bad whiskey lay at the bottom of the affair.

terian Church in this city, Nov. 15th, by Rev.
G. P. Tindall, William Gillet, Esq., of East Saginaw, and Miss Celia Botsford, of this city.

The bride received valuable presents.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

PAY TAXES & SAVE FIVE PER CENT.

The Tax Rolls for the city of Ypsilanti are now in the hands of the Treasurer, and taxes can be paid at the Banking office of E. and F.
P. Bogardus, up to December 31st, 1865, without percentage. After that date the rolls will be in the hands of the city marshal and 5 per cent. added for collection.

F. P. BOGARDUS.

PURE CATAWBA BRANDY.

C. W. Roback challenges the comparison of the best French Cognac with his fine Catawba Brandy, which has been pronounced by the medical faculty superior for medicinal purpose to any brandy ever made.

While Roback's Bitters are kept in the family circle sickness never enters.
A judicious use of these Bitters imparts the rose tint of health to the cheeks and health and vigor to the entire frame.

NO RECOGNITION.

The Southern people have given up all expectations of being recognized, and it is equally difficult to recognize Northerners whose heads of gray, yellow, white, brown or red hair, have surrendered their colors under the wonder-working powers of CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE, which plants permanently in their stead such blacks and browns as Nature might mistake for her own.

Manufactured by J. Cristadoro, No. 6 Astor House, New York. Sold by all druggists, applied by all hair dressers.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

Whose timely use, under Providence, has often saved life. These celebrated vegetable Pills are no new, untried remedy; they have been used and tested in the United States for thirty years, and are relied upon by hundreds of thousands of families as almost their sole medicine when sick. No care or expense is spared in their preparation, and it is certainly true when I assert that no King can have a medicine safer or surer than Brandreth's Pills.
The Genuine Brandreth's Pills has upon it a United States Government stamp, with B. Bran-dreth in white letters in the same.

A Card to Invalids.

A Clergyman, while residing in South America as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the cure of Nervous Weakness, Early decay, diseases of the Urinary and Seminal Organs, and the whole train of disorders
